Description

I am truly sorry. I really do apologize... I hope you can bear with me as I set you all loose together, on a communal collaboriative wild goose chase.

The link brings me to a google docs sheet with a hidden sheet.

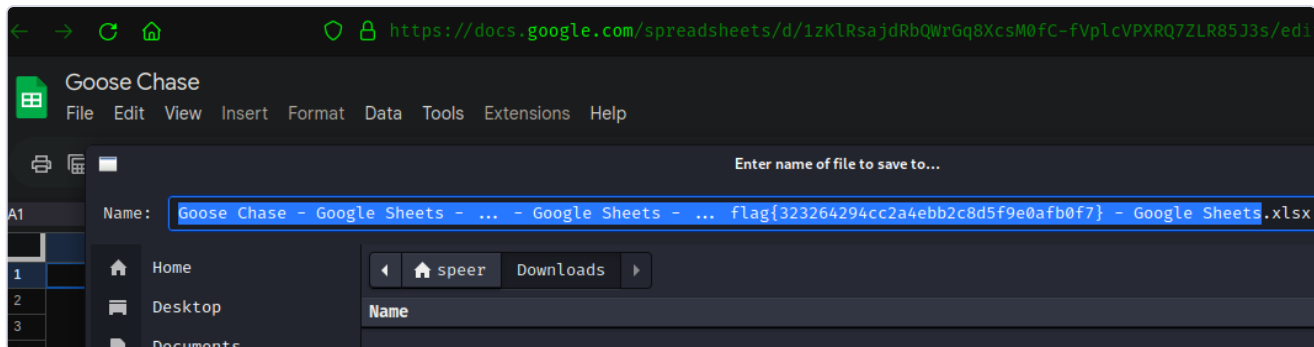

I can make a copy of this sheet or download it. I went with a copy to access the hidden sheet.

The copy of this sheet reveals an import function used in google sheets to reference other document's cells.

If I go to the new document I see it only has the one sheet. and appears to have no data.

I decided to download the file this time and as I did I saw the flag in the document name:
